

ADVANCED TECHNOLOGY SERIES

A photograph of a storefront at night. The name "Harkins Jewelers" is displayed in large, illuminated red neon letters above a series of large glass windows. The windows are framed in dark metal and reflect the surrounding city lights. The overall scene is lit with a mix of purple, blue, and red light, creating a vibrant, modern atmosphere.

Over the last century, Commercial Structures continue to increase the use of glass both for light and display. The added beauty has created new energy problems for the buildings in cooling cost and comfort on sun exposed windows.

For over half a century, the window film industry has had manufacturing technology designed to be applied to a number of glass systems including most tinted glass windows. The tinted glass was projected to make the building more comfortable but when inadequate, the solution chosen is the Pinnacle Plus Series of window films.

Enhancing the color of the glass, this group of products will provide the maximum benefit in cooling benefit along with an added reduction of glare. Pinnacle Plus Series offers films that can "modernize" the appearance of your window with updated attractive glass colors providing a new exterior color.
